Farm spun humor highlights banquet

By Virginia Sass

NEW LENOX — Business, election of directors, presentation of awards and fellowship marked the annual dinner meeting of the Will-South Cook Conservation District Wednesday night, Feb. 2, at the Lincoln-Way Community High School.

The two directors whose terms expired this year, Stelter and Shaw, were re-elected. Also elected to the board was Bruce Anderson of Lockport. The directors serve for two years.

The speaker of the evening, Bill Mason, associated farm service director of WGN-TV, captivated the audience with his "farm-spun" philosophy as he related the revolution of agriculture from its beginning to the present.

Leslie Leighty, dairy farm operator on the J.L. Maloney farm in Monee Township, was awarded a plaque as the District's Conservation Farmer of the Year. The presentation was made by Burry Norton, field supervisor of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

A native of Chicago Heights who spent his boyhood near Herscher, Leighty has resided at his present address for the past 19 years. His wife is the former Ellen Peters and they have two children, Brian, 8, and Beth, 5.

In his youth Leighty was active in the Future Farmers of America and recently received the FFA honorary chapter farmer award.

His farm is frequently used as a dairy and wildlife study location by schools, colleges, FFA, 4-H and Scout groups. Observing wildlife and studying horticulture, especially flowers and flowering shrubs, are family hobbies.

Leighty has a herd of 22 Holstein cows, with all the animals lot fed. Half of the herd is registered and his goal is to make it 100 percent. He has a grade A setup with bulk tank. The milking is done in a stanchion barn.

Outstanding conservation accomplishments on the 242 acres Leighty farms include minimum tillage, grass waterways, crop rotation and good pasture and hayland management to control erosion.

He uses multiflora hedge to benefit wildlife and manages ditches to serve as cover. A slough area has been developed for recreation and wildlife. Leighty was an early promoter of minimum tillage in the area.

Others receiving awards included:

—Mrs. Dorothy Francis, the district's Conservation Teacher of the Year. She was presented with a pen set by Earl Siemsen, Monee, district vice-chairman. Mrs. Francis teaches second grade at Talala School, Park Forest South.

—Ralph Dralle, Frankfort, was presented the 4-H State Alumni accomplishment award by Maurice Davenport, manager of Olin Corporation at Joliet. Davenport was introduced by A.A. Wickelinn, Will County Extension Adviser. Dralle is editor of "Big Farmer," a national magazine.

A demonstration, "Smorgasbord for Birds", was given by Dennis Sorensen of the Florence Blue Ribbon 4-H Club.

Special guests introduced were Phil Burgess, of the Division of Soil and Water Conservation at Springfield; Bernard Fleming, of the Illinois State Agricultural Advisory Committee; Rollin Swank, area conservationist, Soil Conservation Service at Kankakee; Robert Craft, resource conservationist, of Lisle, and Rex Mapes, soil scientist, Soil Conservation Service of Lisle.

Caucuses pick board nominees

NEW LENOX — Nominees to represent New Lenox, Frankfort and Homer townships on the new Will County board that is being formed this spring, were selected at party caucuses conducted on Tuesday night, Feb. 1.

The Republicans, meeting at Lincoln-Way High school, nominated John Oster, New Lenox; Glenn P. Coburn, Frankfort, and Jerome J. Paddock, Homer Township.

The Democrats, caucusing at Oakview Junior High School here, chose Victor A. Tinley, New Lenox; Wilbur Schalk, Mokena, and Mrs. Betty Perrino, of Homer.

The election will be held April 4, when 27 members will be elected to make up the county board. Three will be chosen in each of the nine districts into which the county has been divided on a population basis to follow the one-man-one-vote rule imposed by the courts.

New Lenox, Frankfort and Homer townships make up District 2.

John Oster, former superintendent of schools at New Lenox, now retired, has been serving on the county board as an assistant supervisor from New Lenox Township.

Glenn Coburn, formerly in the livestock business and is now a real estate dealer, has been serving on the board as supervisor of Frankfort Township.

Jerome Paddock, is the supervisor of Homer Township and was formerly in the farm implement business at Plainfield, which he has sold. He is a director in the new Bank of Lockport.

At the caucus, which was attended by 110 persons despite weather conditions, each of the three nominees received 110 votes. There were four spoiled ballots.

Victor Tinley, who ran for supervisor of New Lenox Township last year to lose to John E. Francis — who was not a candidate for the new county board — is in the sales department of the Streator Brick Systems, Inc. Each of the Democrats received 46 votes out of the 50 cast.

Victor Schalk is a service man for various household appliances. Mrs. Perrino, who is also a committeeman in Homer, is a busy person. Besides her political activities and housewife role, she grooms dogs.

Of the 54 nominees chosen at caucuses 27 are incumbents and two are women. The other woman besides Mrs. Perrino is Mrs. Helen Harshbarger, Plainfield.

Roy Hastert, chairman of the present county board, was one of the three nominees chosen by the Republicans in District 4, which includes the Wheatland-DuPage area. Seven candidates ran.

NEW LENOX — The C & A garbage disposal firm, with headquarters at Manhattan, will continue to serve the village of New Lenox. At the regular meeting of the village board last Wednesday night the contract with C & A was renewed for two years.

The garbage disposal bids had been received at the previous board session, Jan. 19, and referred to Village Clerk Marjorie Wajchert for tabulation and report.

There were four bidders. The total bids, as reported after tabulation showed C & A was low by $162. Its total price was $20,433. Coming next was the bid of Foschi Brothers, $20,595. The other two bids were, Barnes Rubbish Removal, $22,674 and Nu-Way, $24,081.

The companies could bid on a one or two year basis and C & A asked the same amount for each of the two years. It gives free pickup service to schools and churches and makes no charge for the annual spring haul-away day.

Foschi asked $2,000 for the spring haul-away. The difference in two bids was in the unit price for residential and commercial stops.

Foschi bid a price of $1.40 per residential pick-up as compared to $1.75 by C & A. For this reason Trustee L. M. Guenther voted against acceptance of the C & A bid, he explained later.

"If our population increases in the next couple of years as it is believed

In some of the downstate counties regular primaries were held to select candidates for the new county boards. The Will County supervisors voted to hold caucuses instead of primaries as an economy measure. County Clerk Clara Hartley Woodard estimated the county saved about $60,000 in using the caucus system in preference to primaries.

The new board will take office May 1 and the members will be county officers. There has been an effort to get the legislature to settle the pay question for members of these new county boards, putting them on a regular annual salary. As of late last week there had been no action reported.

The county boards of the past have been made up of supervisors and assistant supervisors in the townships. Now the positions of assistant supervisors have been done away with. Supervisors will continue to be elected in the township and perform their duties there in supervising the care of indigent persons and their other tasks which are set forth by law.

New Lenox accepts CTA bid

it will", he said, "we would find the Foschi Brothers bid would cost us considerably less as there is a differential there of 35 cents per residential stop."

Foschi asked $4 per commercial stop and would give churches free service.

Trustee Earl Schroeder opened a topic for debate when he suggested the village buy a second squad car and put an additional fulltime man on the department. The question was finally resolved when Schroeder made a motion that the board take bids on a new squad. This motion was adopted. The question of hiring another fulltime officer will be brought up at a later meeting, it was said.

Money for the new car would come out of next year's appropriations which will become available May 1. It is possible, it was said, that the village might take advantage of the deal the state is expected to make for new cars.

The village can buy a car on the same terms offered to the state but there would be no trade-in. In this instance the no trade-in rule would make no difference—the village doesn't have a car to trade at this time. It was explained by Roy Dowle, the village business manager, that typewriters purchased by the village and the leasing of a copying machine were based on the same figure that the sellers had given the state in bids.

An ordinance authorizing the annexation of Providence High School to the village of New Lenox was approved by the board. Another ordinance was adopted approving the zoning classification of C-2, recommended by the village zoning board of appeals. C-2 permits shopping centers as well as schools.

Also adopted was an ordinance annexing a large lot owned by Dennis Vally at the southeast corner of Wood and Cooper streets. It comes in zoned for single family residences but it was said that Vally will ask for rezoning. The lot in question is approximately 159 by 400 feet.

Village Attorney Wayne Johnson reminded the board that it was its function to watch the agreements made with Leavitt & Son and the Barr family for development of some 120 acres south of U.S. 30 and west of the Lincoln-Way Shopping Center.

These agreements call for certain things to be done by both developers and village at certain times, Johnson pointed out. John Djerf, of Robert E. Hamilton Engineering, representing the village said that progress on the sewage and water system plans was satisfactory.

Council members were reminded that the municipalities of Grundy and Will County that have an association to promote their welfare and interests will meet at Frankfort the night of Thursday, Feb. 17. The meeting will be held in the Veterans Memorial Building at Locust and Nebraska streets.

Moved

Office of The HERALD of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox has moved — but just around the corner and in the same building. Our new address is 19836 Wolf Road, Unit 5, Mokena.

Police sponsor ball

MOKENA — The second annual policemen's ball, sponsored by the Mokena Police Association, is to be held this Saturday night, Feb. 12, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on Wolf Road.

Dancing is to begin at 8 p.m. and continue until 1 a.m. Proceeds will be used to buy equipment for the department, it was explained. Donation for the dance is $2 per person but this does not include the refreshments which will be available.

FIA gives donation to St. Michael band

FAIRWAY — Robert Wilbur, vice president of the Fairway Improvement Association presided at the meeting held Tuesday, Feb. 1, at Silver Lake Country Club.

Boy Scout Troop 381, sponsored by St. Michael Church, presented the colors to open the meeting.

A donation of $150 was presented to the Sister Mary Pius and Ken Pollack, assistant band director, who accepted on behalf of St. Michael School band. The money is to be used to help purchase marching equipment. To express their appreciation the St. Michael Band members presented a short program for the FIA members.

Reports on Operation Santa and the New Year's Eve party were presented by Vice President Wilbur. Santa visited 185 children Christmas eve in the "Operation Santa" program. The Orland Chateau was a sell out for the second straight year for the FIA New Year's eve party.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Frances Enk, representing the Girl Scouts, and Art Poston, representing the Boy Scouts, who were introduced. They participated in a discussion regarding their needs for camping equipment. Members voted a donation of $600 to be divided equally to purchase tents for camping.

A representative of the Urban Investment and Development Co. will be present at the meeting Tuesday, March 7, at Silver Lake Country Club to explain the plans for the new shopping center and to answer questions.

FIA meetings begin at 8 p.m. and are open to all residents, members and non-members alike.

Orland Day celebration scheduled for June 1-4

ORLAND PARK — Organizational work for June's Orland Days was started last week with the announcement of chairmen and committee member appointments by Chamber of Commerce President Richard Lentfer.

The event will be held Thursday through Sunday, June 1-4.

A special meeting has been called Thursday, Feb. 24, by President Lentfer of all community organizations wishing to have booths at the carnival grounds during the four-day event.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held at the village hall and it will be the only meeting held concerning the booth assignments for the carnival. Each organization is asked to send a representative. Organization which cannot attend the meeting are asked to contact the chamber office secretary, 349-2972.

The booths have proved profitable for the participating organizations in the past. The cub scouts earned more than $100 last year with their balloon booth and the Orland Park Lions Club showed a $500 profit from its booth.

Larry Moody, the veteran Orland Days chairman, was again named to head up the community-wide promotion by the chamber president. Jim Raines will return as chairman of the carnival; Mrs. Richard Lentfer will serve as chairman of the queen contest; and Mrs. Jerry Piper, parade chairman. The chamber secretary, Mrs. Olson, will assist in coordination of the festival's activities.

The Orland Days appointees held their first joint meeting Thursday, Feb. 3, to prepare budgets, discuss improvements for the event and to make various assignments.

Each chairman will be responsible to contact additional committee members and festival workers.

Student group needs housing

ORLAND PARK — Homes are needed to participate in a week long student exchange program being sponsored by the Southwest YMCA and Carl Sandburg High School student council. The exchange with a high school in Minneapolis, Minn., will be held March 5-11, when homes for students will be needed.

Interested persons may contact Sue Hoerman, 349-0434, for further information.

Doris Propp has new home

TINLEY PARK — Doris Propp, is a customer representative and will be located at the new Commonwealth Edison office at 135th Street and Kostner Avenue, Crestwood.

A HERALD review

'French Connection' is entertaining flick

"The French Connection" is an entertaining, first-class movie. This film is being held over for another week at the Hillcrest Theatre, Crest Hill, and is well-worth the price of admission.

Loosely based on the real-life adventures of two New York policemen, the film portrays a narcotics detective who becomes obsessed with his job, putting it even above the lives of his fellow police officials.

Gene Hackman gives a convincing portrayal of Doyle, the not-too-bright, not-too-mature cop. Doyle and his partner, Russo (played by Roy Scheider), set out to crack a major conspiracy to smuggle 120 pounds of 89 percent pure heroin into the country from France.

The partners discover the scheme by watching a small-time hood and candy store owner, Sal Boca, who serves as the middle-man between the American buyer for the dope and the "French connection."

Doyle and Russo are convinced that this is the big case of the year. Skeptical federal narcotics officials and a lieutenant are not so sure. The latter chastises the partners for "leading the department in arrests every year" but always landing the small fry — the bellhop with three joints in his sock.

The team eventually cracks the plot... leaving a trail of blood and violence (a little more than necessary). The movie is rated R, probably more for the violence than for any objectionable sexual content.

The "French Connection" is slow-moving at spots, but not unbearably so. At least one portion of the film, in which Doyle chases an elevated train at high speeds through heavy New York traffic, is overdone to the point of being unbelievable. But in general, the plot is tight — much more substantial than the average detective flick.

The movie features nobody-you've-ever-heard-of, but the acting is good. The characters are, unfortunately, blatantly stereo-typed — the bad guys are Italian, Jewish and/or rich; the dope addicts are all Black; and the good guys are WASPs. A deviation from this expected formula would have improved the film.

"The French Connection" is a simple and relaxing way to fill an evening. Demanding little from the audience in the way of interpretation, the film gives much in entertainment.

He's his own man - Jean Simon

MIDLOTHIAN — Her man is "his own man." That's the idea Mrs. Paul Simon, wife of the Lieutenant Governor, and Democratic candidate for governor, conveyed to members of the press at a press luncheon Feb. 2.

Mrs. Simon was responding to questions from the assembled journalists in regards to how free from influence her husband would be from the Richard Daley machine. During his 17 years in state government Simon has built a reputation of being an independent, frequently voting against Democratic sponsored legislation.

Mrs. Simon told the assembled members of the press that "Paul has been an independent for 17 years, and he isn't going to change now."

Mrs. Simon is touring the state, on behalf of her husband's candidacy. With Mrs. Simon at the luncheon was Mrs. Neil Hartigan, wife of Simon's running mate, as lieutenant governor.

Commenting on her campaign tours the former state legislator said she would continue to work for Paul even after election, if he is elected. "Paul and I feel we can better serve the public if we go in different directions, and not in the same areas, all the time," Mrs. Simon said.

Commenting on various issues Mrs. Simon said: Governor Ogilvie: The governor will not be easy to beat, he has a vast patronage army, and many built in advantages. The state has spent some $20,000 to publish an Ogilvie Cook Book, a compilation of the first lady's recipes, something Mrs. Simon says her husband would never allow to be done.

Mrs. Simon accused the governor of making promises he did not keep referring to the state income tax, and the sales and gasoline taxes. She said, "He started a state income tax, after promising not to do so, and raised sales and gas taxes, also after promising not to do so."

On Dan Walker independent candidate for governor: "He has one issue in the campaign. Mayor Daley. Commenting on the request by Walker to debate with Simon she said, "Paul has had two debates with Walker one on a television show and another on radio, and feels that he has fulfilled his obligation and his promise to debate with Walker." Mrs. Simon said that the voters know where the candidates stand on issues, and questioned why Simon should go running around the state debating Walker when it would only give Walker public exposure.

A third airport: Simon is definitely against an airport in the lake. He has not made a statement on the necessity of a third airport, or said where it would be located if it is determined a third airport is needed. However, that Simon supports the idea of an airport in the St. Louis area, on the Illinois side of the river. Downstate strength: "Paul will do very well downstate. His association with Mayor Daley will not hurt him."

East St. Louis is one of the worst ghettos in the state."

Rural Illinois: "We must keep our small towns viable and attractive" in order to retain and attract population. "We cannot all live in Chicago."

"Paul has always been against the patronage system. He has taken the first steps to eliminate patronage. Change of the patronage system will be a major part of Paul's program if he is elected."

It is in this spirit that I write to you today.

You are undoubtedly familiar with HB 1407, the "mandatory" special education law.

Sec. 14 - 4.01 says "School boards of any school districts that maintain a recognized school . . . shall . . . establish and maintain such special education facilities as may be needed for one or more of the types of handicapped children . . . who are residents of their school district . . ."

This means public school, does it not? If a public school board establishes and maintains special education facilities, they will be public school facilities, will they not?

One of the outstanding virtues of the mandatory special education legislation (HB 1407) in the eyes of many professionals, is that handicapped children were to be provided for by public schools in public school facilities.

The Southwest Cook County Cooperative Association for Special Education has recently (within the past two years) been draining off many "trainable" pupils from public school "trainable" classes and has been putting them in private schools.

Their excuse - "The kid is too hard to handle. Behavior is too bad."

Handing children so their behavior is acceptable has two sides. The child must be capable of responding to competent supervision, and the supervision must be competent!

We estimate that 75 per cent of Co-operative personnel (teachers, aides, psychologists) has been turned over in the last 2½ years. Many of the very competent personnel, those who can handle difficult pupils acceptably, have found it "advisable" to leave the Cooperative, and they have been replaced in many cases by college youngsters who do not know the first thing about handling behavior problems in children, according to reports.

When the competent people left, many children suddenly "regressed." These children had to leave the Cooperative public school classes and be put into private schools with the school districts paying their tuition, because the teachers who were successful in working with them had found it "advisable" to leave.

Some of us think these children should be in public school with teachers who are competent to handle them.

Dr. Fangman, county special education assistant to County Supt. Martwick, talked against "farming out" special education children to facilities outside the special education co-operatives. He made a very strong statement to this effect at a meeting of the SW Cooperative Special Education Advisory Board this fall.

After Dr. Fangman made this statement to the SW Cooperative, the SW Cooperative has continued its policy of "farming out" children and a goodly number of co-operative personnel have considered it "advisable" to leave.

I am a special education teacher. I have seen this process going on for two years now, and am amazed that it has not been halted by superintendents of member districts, by board members of individual districts, by the cooperative executive board, by the Special Education PTA, or by parents.

If parents or board members wish it, they can ask for a thorough assessment of the Cooperative procedures, from Dr. Fangman, who has at his disposal, especially for the purpose, the County Advisory Committee, with Dr. McKinney as chairman. I understand this costs nothing.

Do the member districts realize that the executive board of the cooperative gives Benjamin Braun a free hand to do all of these things, providing he does not bother the superintendents with cooperative problems? The executive board "rubber-stamps" Benjamin Braun, it seems to me. Executive board meetings occur once a month, and sometimes the business is concluded in 20 minutes or half an hour. I know. I go to all of them and take notes in shorthand.

Some of us have a deep feeling of loyalty to the high ideals and high level of performance in the original cooperative, when Lloyd Alton was director, and are deeply dismayed at the present status of ideals and performance. We also are dismayed at the apathy of the public.

Twenty-nine years ago a drama unfolded on the North Atlantic Ocean that will live in the annals of man as long as humanity retains its system of values that preaches the brotherhood of man.

This heroic deed occurred on Feb. 3, 1943, when the USS Dorchester, an American troopship, was torpedoed by a German submarine off the coast of Greenland. Through turmoil and panic, four army chaplains assisted troops into lifeboats; and, when no more boats were available, they gave up their life jackets to four soldiers and then went down with the ship.

The protagonists in this action of courage and love were First Lieutenants George L. Fox, a Methodist minister; Clark V. Poling, a Reformed Church of America minister; Alexander D. Goode, a rabbi; and John P. Washington, a Roman Catholic priest.

What a contrast the lives of these men of God offer to the lives of so many of us today who are preoccupied mainly with narcissistic endeavors.

What a beautiful rapprochement these men of varied churches established among themselves. Ordinary mortals would have been squabbling among themselves as to who should give up his life jacket first.

What greater display of ecumenism than this: four men of different faiths — in 1943, mind you — arm in arm, going to their death.

There is a desperate need for a minstrel to sing to the contemporary world of the heroic deed of these four men of God.

Cicero repairs a village plaque

Is the village of Oak Forest going to be subjected to further mishandling at the hands of the Illinois State Highway Department which is presently reconstructing Cicero Avenue?

For the past six months business people and residents have suffered through mud, frontage roads, loss of business, detours and safety problems — many which could have been avoided with a little insight and an earlier start toward the construction which began in August. If agreement between the state and the village did not allow for an earlier start, why wasn't it delayed until such time when all work could have been completed without months of aggravation and financial loss?

Why do local villages always have to step in and make actual demands on the state highway department regarding safety measures when the state highway department is supposedly composed of experts in all areas of highway construction.

The state highway department is now talking about closing 159th Street for reconstruction. Work will supposedly begin on March 1.

Route 6, or, 159th Street, is the only through highway between Cicero Avenue and Harlem Avenue, south of 147th Street (which only runs west as far as Oak Park Avenue) and 167th Street (which does run west to Harlem Avenue but has a 20 MPH limit between Oak Park Avenue and Harlem Avenue). If 159th Street is under construction before Cicero Avenue is completed, a large portion of Oak Forest residents will be locked into an area of mud, dust, inconvenience and unsafe conditions marked by "Your tax dollars at work," signs. Not to mention what will happen to the recently resurfaced county highway of 167th Street.

It has taken the state six months to finish approximately one-half of the work to be done on Cicero Avenue and this portion is still not open to traffic. The winter weather no doubt contributed to many of the delays but certainly the state and contractors knew winter was coming. It always does.

The business owners and residents of Oak Forest have every right to speak out in a unified voice against this latest proposed travesty of the Illinois State Highway Department.

City engineer Gordon Start has sent a letter to the state highway department requesting changes in the repairs being made on Cicero Ave.

The letter requested that the state do everything possible to get the northbound lane open to traffic, and replace the mud in the median strip with stone to reduce safety problems.

Reconstruction on 159th Street should not be allowed until Cicero Avenue is completed.

Dowle, the boards best friend

Roy E. Dowle, business manager for the Village of New Lenox has tendered his resignation, effective Feb. 19. He took the position Nov. 10, 1969 and at the time said he would remain for two years. He has been on the job about three months longer than he had planned.

He and Mrs. Dowle are going to Florida, where they have a home in the St. Petersburg area. Besides soaking up the sunshine he plans to look for something to keep him occupied.

The Dowles have resided in New Lenox for 35 years. He is an electrical engineer and has worked for several utility companies installing electrical systems.

He was in semi-retirement when he accepted the village post, because, he said he didn't just want to sit around, and he wanted something to do.

Like other villagers, most members of the New Lenox village board are businessmen, some of whom are employed outside the area while those in the village are often too busy to give as much time to village affairs as they would like. With Dowle at the village hall their problems have been solved.

"See Roy about that," board members would advise residents who came to them with problems that required immediate attention. Or they may call Dowle, acquaint him with the situation, and ask him to carry on.

Dowle has become conservant with all aspects of village government and its multitude of problems from clogged drains to interpretation of ordinances. He knows what the plan commission and zoning board of appeals have done and what their current cases are.

For a man who was looking around for something to do Roy Dowle has done a whale of a job and the village board has accepted his resignation with deep regret.

A word about open meetings

It appears that a minor controversy several weeks ago about an interpretation of the Illinois Open Meetings Law has subsided — and we couldn't be more pleased.

The controversy — if it could be called that — began when two Des Plaines attorneys commented that the Open Meetings Law might have a changing role in the 1970s.

The attorneys reported that a home rule community has the right to draft its own version of the law. It was pointed out by several authorities, however, that all home rule communities must have some form of open meetings law in effect at all times.

Following the publicity about the interpretation, officials from home rule communities reported they were satisfied with the present Open Meetings Law — and saw little reason to draft their own version of the law, if and when it became clear that they possessed such a right.

Understandably, there is considerable confusion about just what a home rule community can and cannot do under the 1971 Illinois Constitution. Much of the blame for the confusion rests with the legislature, which did pathetically little this year to pass enabling legislation to define municipal powers.

Anyway, the Open Meetings Law — nicknamed the Scariano Act, after its legislative sponsor, Rep. Anthony Scariano, D-Park Forest — appears to remain unchallenged. Despite occasional grumbling about the law, there seems to be little willingness to seek a substitute.

We get upset when the Scariano Act is challenged as we regard it as a good and necessary law — perhaps not as tough a law as we would like, but a strong document designed to protect the right of the people to know what their elected officials are doing and saying.

Open meeting laws — called "sunshine laws" in some states — have been enacted in 38 states. In some states, such as Missouri, there's a full-fledged effort underway to pass such a law.

What matters in Illinois, however, is not always the strict letter of the Scariano Act, for if a public official wants to nitpick about what can and what cannot be discussed in public, there is some room for controversy.

What matters is the spirit of the law. Too often elected officials violate the spirit if not the letter by meeting socially to discuss the public's business. Too often in a legal closed-door session the discussion strays from the topic and into matters which should legally and morally be discussed before the public.

Underlying the "spirit" of the law is an assumption by the author of the bill that public bodies, if they operate publicly and trust those who watch them, will have little to fear.

For those governments which have followed the letter and the spirit of the law, and there are many, the result has been public confidence in that group's efforts.

For those taxing bodies which have been lax in trusting the public — and the betrayal of trust is revealed — there is a general reinforcement of the feeling that "government is lying." That is a feeling which needs as little reinforcement as possible these days.

For taxing bodies, the answer is simple: trust the public. The Scariano Act can be a tool to encourage that trust, while permitting a few matters to be discussed privately. It is a good law, and should not be altered.

As a mobile home floats past

By Glenn Logan

Maps and reports showing areas subject to flooding when the rains come close together, and the creeks rise, have their place in the scheme of things.

Collecting the data for the reports and the maps, plus the preparation of the reports and the actual drawing and printing of the maps provide work for a variety of people on the payrolls of various governments. Such work also provides a defense when accusations are made that many payroll jobs are all pay and no work.

What plan commissions, zoning boards and lawyers would do without such reports or maps is difficult to imagine. They couldn't bring the country to the hearing and taking the hearing to the country could be inconvenient, especially in bad weather.

But people who have been brought up in an area and have spent many years farming the land in question do not need reports or maps to tell or show them there are times when a lot of it is under water. They know through experience.

At the zoning board hearing in Matteson last week in which the owner of 148 acres between the Penn Central and Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railway tracks in the vicinity of Ridgeland Ave. sought classification to permit a mobile home park. Maps were produced to show that it lay in a flood plain.

Farmers present at the hearing didn't bother to look at any maps. When someone said that the area was subject to floods they nodded in agreement. Floods are no strangers to them. In their opinion there have been some pretty good floods there and had no doubt there would be other pretty good floods in the future.

Someone connected with the developer said that the flood threat would be taken care of. The creek — good old Hickory which can go on a right smart rampage at times — would be dug out and the stuff dug out plus apparently stuff hauled in, would be used to fill or raise the low spots in the area.

"Do that," said one of the farmers, his words painting a delightful picture, "and you will have trailers floating down Hickory Creek."

A deeper Hickory Creek capable of accommodating a fleet of house trailers, gliding or bobbing along with the current would be a lovely sight indeed.

To tell the truth this department has never seen a house trailer afloat. Someone told us that they will float, if you keep the doors shut. Assuming they can be water borne, and if the farmers are right that deepening the creek and adding earth to the flood plain would cause the trailers to slip their moorings, one could list water sports among the advantages of a mobile home.

It might be well, though, to design the back end of the home — or should one more properly say stern — so one could attach an outboard engine. Less expensive models could come with a steering oar. Certainly one could be in a lot of trouble if unable to guide his mobile home and it collided with other homes or ran aground.

Hickory Creek, when not in flood, is a placid stream and there are stretches where it is quite pretty.

There are other stretches where debris litters the banks and the water flows around and through old stove and refrigerator parts and other household junk.

When in flood the waters are yellow with mud, with maybe a few flecks of black that could be blacktop from driveways and parking lots washed in by the rains. One thing the high waters do — they cover the debris and the junk along the banks.

But a flotilla of mobile homes cruising along would really add a touch of beauty. Maybe some of the home owners might rig sails and that would make a pretty sight.

A lift bridge installed at Harlem Avenue would let them through and perhaps the prestigious development at Prestwick would consent to sponsor the show and call it the "Prestwick Regatta."

A daring thought . . .

Traffic lights still red

TINLEY PARK — The village board postponed a decision to enter into a state proposed agreement for a 50/50 split on the cost of installation of traffic signals at 171st St. and Harlem Ave. The postponement was agreed to after a lengthy discussion regarding state and county funds for the project.

The agreement with the state would allow for about $17,000 of state funds and $15,000 of village funds.

A letter from the county highway department read by Mayor John D. Dunn said that the county only participates in traffic signal programs when the county has been responsible for the need. In the case regarding 171st St. (a county highway) and Harlem Ave. (a state highway) the county holds that the state created the problem and therefore should bear the cost.

Trustee Carl Montecki asked for a one week stay in order for him to further pursue full payment for the signals through state representatives Leland Rayson and Don Moore.

Montecki read a letter from Barton-Aschman Associates Inc., Chicago, regarding a study of potential traffic improvement within the village. The submitted proposal to provide professional traffic engineering services to the village was broken into several subject areas.

The first area called for construction plans for traffic signal installation at 167th St. and 171st St. and Oak Park Ave. (regarding parking and traffic study for the area adjacent to the Rock Island Railroad station) The second area is a review of thoroughfare plans in relation to population rules estimates. Third area is preparation of an official map for the village while the fourth suggested retaining services of said company as traffic consultants for the planners of the corridor study.

The Board accepted Montecki's proposal with an agreement that costs not exceed $12,000.

According to Montecki, the county will pay 12 1/2 percent of the cost for the signals at 167th St. because the county highway forms two legs of the intersection; however no payment will be made at 171st St. and Oak Park Ave. because the county highway does not continue east across the main highway and therefore constitutes only one leg of the intersection.

In further business the Board:

—Authorized the village attorney to make necessary plans for a new census which hopefully will increase the motor fuel tax funds paid to the village, per head ($18) by the state.

—Approved the appointments to the industrial and commercial commission of Harry Kaufman, James McDonald, Ron Rizzo, Pat O'Brien, Ken and Connie Bots, and Jack Stanton under the chairmanship of Ed Gregory.

—Heard a report from Mrs. Moreen McGinley, 7430 W. 163rd Place, regarding voter registration at her home Feb. 15, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. for people in District six, Orland Township only.

—Were reminded by village clerk Bill German that starting March 1 vehicle stickers for all residents will be $20 until Feb. 29. Residents may purchase stickers for $10 and senior citizens for $1.

—Listened to a recommendation from trustee Merle Landau that truck stickers come due in June to coincide with state license renewal. Landau also mentioned that all businesses must have purchased licenses by Feb. 29.

—Heard a report by trustee Bob Mason on a comprehensive study of the planning and zoning committee regarding the school district assistant program with the recommendation for a total plan for school assistance.

Ford builds 5 millionth here

COOK COUNTY — Ford Motor Company celebrated its 5,000,000th made-in-Chicago Ford on Tuesday, Feb. 8.

Ceremonies involved a visit to the company's assembly plant at 12600 S. Torrence by 93 Chicago area Ford dealers and mayors of scores of area communities who had been invited to attend.

Also expected to see the 5,000,000th Ford roll off the final assembly line are Lt. Governor Paul Simon and Mayor Richard Daley. In tribute to Ford Motor Company's contribution to the economy of the city since 1914, Mayor Daley proclaimed Feb. 8 "Ford Day" in Chicago.

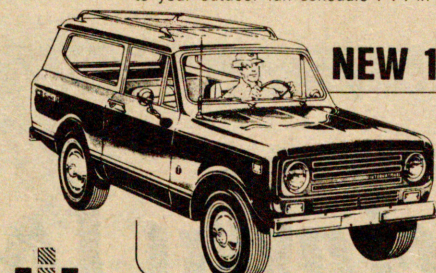

The milestone car will share the spotlight with a 1914 Model T touring car, similar to ones made in March, 1914, when Ford began assembly operations in Chicago in a new plant at 3915 S. Wabash.

Replicas of the 5,000,000th Ford, a Galaxie two-door hardtop painted a special Gold Glow glamour color and bearing a commemorative emblem, will be on exhibit during the month at Chicago area Ford dealers.

As a further tribute, specially-designed commemorative coins, struck in bronze, will be given to showroom visitors during the sale period. The coins depict a Model T fronting the Water Tower on one side and the milestone car and Marina Towers on the other.

Rayson announces he will run again

TINLEY PARK — State Rep. Leland H. Rayson (D-Tinley Park) has announced that he is a candidate for nomination in the Democratic primary on March 21 for re-election to the office of Representative to the Illinois General Assembly from the new Ninth Legislative District, along with Richard F. Kelly, Jr. from East Hazelcrest as his running mate.

REP. LELAND H. RAYSON

Lee Rayson, a four-time "Best Legislator" award winner, president of the Bremen Township Democratic organization, and father of seven children, stated the new Ninth District is compact and has a population of 188,000 and is in full compliance with the "one-man, one-vote" requirement for legislative reapportionment.

When asked about the abbreviated Legislative session of Jan. 12 and 13, Rayson said, "Right after we passed a meaningful but modest ethics bill, we proceeded before the ink was dry to override the governor's veto of a bill making it mandatory for the Illinois Secretary of State to slate incumbents first on the primary ballot, notwithstanding the unconstitutionality and the unfairness of this bill."

"Rep. Scariano, now a candidate for nomination for state senator in the new Ninth District, joined with me and a handful of others, in unsuccessfully trying to defeat this maneuver," Rayson stated.

Communities get tax shares

COOK COUNTY — The distribution of $7,475,308.71 to Illinois counties and municipalities as their share of the state income tax collections for December was announced recently by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

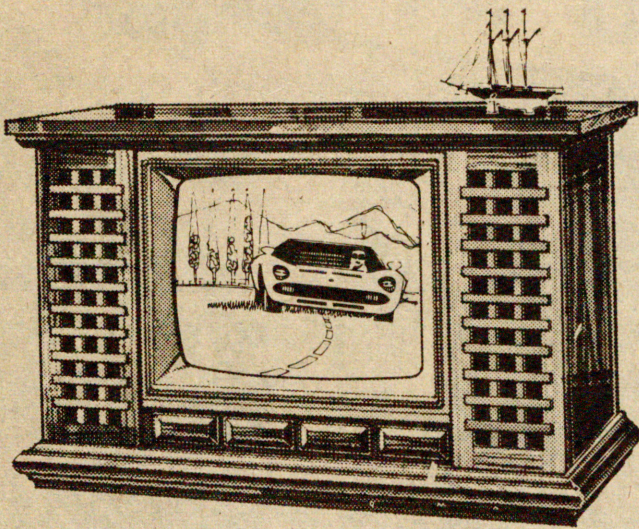

Payments to the cities and villages are based on their populations, while payments to counties are based on the population of the unincorporated territory in each county.

The counties' share for December totaled $1,178,883.63; and the municipalities' share was $6,296,425.08.

The following is a list of local municipalities in Cook County, their populations, and the money received for December and the fiscal year under the income tax sharing program.

A Thought To Remember
BY BOB HIRSCH

A friend inadvertently saw Lincoln kneeling beside an open Bible in early dawn; heard his sorrowful voice pleading in prayer: "O thou God that heard Solomon in the night that he prayed for wisdom, hear me. I can not lead this people. I can not guide the affairs of this nation without Thy help. I am poor, weak and sinful. O God, Who didst hear Solomon when he cried to Thee, hear me and save this nation!"

BESIDE AN OPEN BIBLE! Lincoln did not have the Bible for a book end, or for an ornamental accessory on his desk. He read it. Studied it. Believed in it. Loved it. Lived with it and by it. He described it as: "I believe the Bible is the best gift God has ever given to man. All the good from the Saviour of the world is communicated to us through this Book."

Is it any wonder world history honors Lincoln's humanness, his humility — and accords him monumental greatness as one of the greatest men who ever lived?...

Break seen for franchisee, consumer

By Lea Tonkin

Whether he's shopping for a gallon of milk or a franchise operation worth several thousand dollars, the consumer should benefit from franchise legislation slated to come before the Illinois General Assembly this year.

The franchise disclosure bill, originally drafted and introduced last year by Illinois Atty. William J. Scott and later introduced as a Democratic-sponsored bill, would require a franchise company to disclose financial and other aspects of their operation before signing up a new franchise. According to representatives of Scott and a suburban Convenient Food Mart franchise owner involved in a series of legal hassles with his parent firm, this type of legislation should eliminate the need for later court action relating to long term franchise contracts.

Robert S. Atkins, Illinois assistant attorney general in the antitrust division, said in commenting on the bill which was killed last Nov. 4, and reintroduced the same day as a "carbon copy (HB3570) bill by House Democrats, said, "It's not a matter of who gets credit for the bill. We think the people of Illinois deserve this kind of disclosure."

In the meantime the attorney general will continue legal efforts on behalf of consumers and businessmen adversely affected by restrictive franchise agreements, according to Atkins. One such action is the suit Scott filed last fall against the nation's largest food mart franchisor, Convenient Food Marts, Inc., and the two corporations owning all the firm's stock.

Consumers are denied the advantages of competitive pricing and franchisees are bilked of economic independence, Scott charged. Unlawful restraint of trade, price-fixing and unlawful contract agreements are charges levied by the attorney general against Convenient. Also named as defendants are: Scot Lad Foods

Inc., through its Meadowmoor Dairy Division in Chicago; and Bresler Ice Cream Co., the firms owning Convenient stock.

Following a Dec. 17, 1971, ruling by Cook County Circuit Court Judge Daniel Covelli in favor of the defendants, the attorney general filed notice of appeal. Briefs on this case are being filed by both sides, according to Atkins.

Lewis C. Carroll, president of the Convenient firm, said Covelli's decision is "a ruling we are very pleased to receive." He said a further encouragement is that the defendants were not required to present evidence on their own behalf during the proceedings. He had no comment on other antitrust actions involving the Convenient firm.

Antitrust violations charges similar to those filed by Scott, are charged in a suit launched by Earl Bonovich, owner of the Convenient Food Mart store, 26 W. Dundee in Wheeling. Judge Covelli is slated to hear evidence on Jan. 26 relating to the Bonovich suit against Convenient, Scot Lad and Bresler. He is expected to rule on the local franchisee's move to bring a class action suit. "If it is ruled a class action suit all other Convenient owners will be notified by the court and can participate in the suit," said Bonovich. He will continue as the sole plaintiff if Covelli does not rule the case a class action.

Bonovich said he hopes the franchise disclosure legislation proposed for the state of Illinois will be approved.

"Many, many other franchisees are in the same situation," he said referring to the franchise disagreements he has had with his parent firm.

A Feb. 2 hearing date is set for oral arguments on a federal antitrust suit filed in January, 1970, against the Convenient firm. Approximately 65 Convenient store operators, including Bonovich, were originally involved in this action. The number has dropped to around 20 as the owners are forced by indebtedness and other pressures to withdraw, said Bonovich.

Following the filing of the federal suit, the Convenient franchise company tried to oust Bonovich from his operation sending inspectors to his store and later a default notice and termination notice. Discovery proceedings were under way last week in a legal battle to prevent the parent firm from taking over the Wheeling store.

Bonovich said his disagreement with the Convenient firm includes his move to buy milk products from competitive suppliers. His biggest selling item is milk, and at the prices charged by the required supplier (Meadowmoor Dairy), Bonovich claimed he could not make a profit. He has recently switched to another supplier charging 83 cents a gallon for milk rather than the $1.01 charged by the franchisor's supplier.

The store's ice cream products under the franchise agreement must be purchased from the Bresler firm according to Bonovich. All store equipment and fixtures must also be purchased from recommended suppliers he said.

The Convenient Food Mart chain includes more than 80 Illinois outlets. Gross retail sales volume is over $10 million annually.

Volunteers battle fire in below zero weather

FRANKFORT - Volunteer firemen from Frankfort and Mokena fought a stubborn blaze in -3 degree weather Monday evening at the Dr. Otto J. Novota residence, 110 Evergreen, Frankfort.

The fire, which resulted from a candle setting drapes on fire in a second story bedroom, according to Frankfort Fire Chief Bruce Wells, did an estimated $17,000 damage, according to Wells.

Mrs. Novota and the six children were home at the time of the fire which was reported at 7:15 p.m. A teenage son, Chris, who was in an upstairs bedroom, next to the room in which the fire started, escaped through a second story window.

The other five children and Mrs. Novota were in the basement family room and went to neighbors when they discovered the fire. A high school son, Tom, alerted the family to the blaze when he left the family room and went upstairs.

Chief Wells reports that there was no structural damage to the 10-room house. The fire was confined to the second floor.

LINCOLN ESTATES — The Junior Girl Scout troop 378 held a "Winter Camp-out" at Camp Pokanoka, Ottawa, Ill. The girls who attended were Marcie Albright, Diane and Gail Castens, Joanne and Rosie Fields, Diane Blaauw, Kim Gausman, Sandy Geist, Duzzy Hauser, Elizabeth Kamm, Gloria Nicholson, Debbie, Denise and Diane Seamon, Teresa Sulkowski, Sherri Webb and Cathy Wilson.

The leaders who accompanied them were Mrs. Wayne Sulkowski, Mrs. Ray Albright, Mrs. Eddie Fields and Mrs. Albert Kamm.

A nature hike was taken on Saturday morning. A lot of deer and rabbit tracks were seen. Although the weather was very cold, the sky was a beautiful blue and everyone had a good time. The girls planned, cooked and served their own meals. Joanne Fields, Teresa Sulkowski and Cathy Wilson presented "A scouts own ceremony." The theme was a "Forest In Winter."

Those who drove to take them on Friday afternoon and pick them up on Sunday were Mrs. Al Castens, Eddie Fields, Wm. Gausman, Steven Geist and Ed Nicholson. Beginning on Wednesday, Feb. 2, the meetings will be held at the Ann Rutledge school from 3:30 to 4:45 p.m.

Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kaehler on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Evergreen Park and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson, Oak Lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Emereth Boyden attended the past masters dinner at the Cherry Hills Country Club on Sunday evening. The dinner was given in honor of the Past Masters of the Chicago Heights Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nicholson and daughter Shannon have announced plans to live in Jabalpur, India, for approximately one year. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Nicholson, Hillside road and Mrs. Nicholson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grey, Frankfort.

They left Lincoln Estates on Feb. 4 to go to San Francisco, Calif., where they visited the former's sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. Robinson. They were met there by Dr. James B. Sinclair, Professor of Plant Pathology at the University of Illinois.

He will accompany them to India. They are to leave San Francisco on Feb. 11. James graduated from the Ann Rutledge School, Lincoln-Way High School and Eastern Illinois University where he received his B.A. and Masters degrees. Mrs. Nicholson also graduated from Lincoln-Way.

James is doing research in the field of Plant Pathology at the University of Illinois, Urbana. He will continue his research toward a Ph.D. through the joint sponsorship of a U.S. Agency for International Development (U.S.A.I.D.) Grant and the University of Illinois Agriculture Experiment station. His research deals mainly with soybean diseases. Soybeans were introduced to India three years ago as part of the Green Revolution. His work will be primarily at J. Nehru Agricultural University cooperating with four other U. of I. scientists and Indian scientists, also doing research on Soybeans.

They will be traveling extensively through India. Their itinerary includes stops at the following places: Hilo and Honolulu, Hawaii; Taipei, Taiwan; Bangkok, Thailand; New Delhi, India; and on to their final destination, Jabalpur. They expect to arrive some time during the first week of March. On their return trip they plan to stop at Tehran, Iran, to visit friends, then to Athens, Greece; Rome, Italy and Madrid, Spain, where they plan to rent a car and tour parts of Europe, ending near Kassel, Germany, to visit Mrs. Nicholson's brother, S/P K.4 Ken Grev.

Recyclers need bottles

NEW LENOX — The agricultural occupation department at Lincoln-Way High School, which has been sponsoring a re-cycling program as part of its environmental protection plan, wishes to remind residents to keep materials coming in.

There are five things the students are especially interested in for recycling — glass bottles; newspapers; aluminum, tin, steel and bimetal cans; any other aluminum products; automobile batteries. The bottles should be sorted as to color, according to directions from the co-op, rinsed out and any metal caps or rings removed. Labels of paper may be left on.

The newspapers are to be tied or sacked. In regard to the cans, labels should be removed and the aluminum cans separated from the others. All cans are to be flattened.

Volunteers staff the collection points every third Saturday of the month between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. There are five places where this waste can be left: Oakview School, New Lenox; Willowcrest School, Mokena; Frankfort School, Frankfort; Arbury Hills

School and Lincoln-Way High School.

In the spring when the ice and zero temperatures are gone the agricultural students at Lincoln-Way will cooperate in the drive to clear Hickory Creek of debris and clean up its banks. The Sportsmen's Club of New Lenox is sponsoring this movement.

Any questions as to the agricultural department's recycling program at Lincoln-Way may be directed to Ronald Olson, the faculty member in charge. The school number is 485-2511 and his home number, 469-2530.

Lincoln-Way offers humanities

NEW LENOX — "Man and the City" is the theme of the humanities class at Lincoln-Way High School for the third quarter of the school year.

Each quarter the class elects a new committee to decide upon and plan the class schedule for the nine-week period. Kathy Fixari is chairman of the committee selected to run the program. The members are Lori Int-Hout, Betty Brookman, Terry Meade, Terry McCarthy, Mike Vondrasek and Debbie Buckler.

The first project, it was said, deals with the topic of "The City, in Myth and Philosophy." The class has been divided into two sections which will present the myth and philosophy in a video-tape documentary.

Each group will be required to include information on Atlantis, Troy, the Seven Lost Cities, Utopia and New Atlantis. Purpose of this documentary, it was explained, is to learn about certain cities famous in myth, legend and philosophy.

Other topics to be covered will be "The City and the Arts," "City Problems," and "The City and the Future."

Each student is to attend a regular meeting of the village council of his town and turn in a written report relating to the activities involved in operating that village.

The committee will put together a small variety of formal courses ranging from urban time-motion studies to urban growth. Students will take the mini course that interests them most.

King Family special

"Valentine's Day with the King Family," a program dedicated to the many phases of love spanning all generations, will be the "Sunday Night Special" on Channel 9 Feb. 13, 6 to 7 p.m.

A Valentine confection in pink, white and red, the hour features the 45 members of the King Family which includes the King Sisters, Alvino Rey, Bob Clarke, Kent Larsen, the King Cousins and the King Kiddies.

Opening the show the entire family sings "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing" and then each takes out a harmonica and they play a catchy musical, "Heart of My Heart." The feminine members of the family charmingly offer "Let's Do It — Let's Fall In Love," and then the King Sisters harmonize "You'd Be So Easy to Love."

The next segment features Cam and Laurette singing "Wives and Lovers," Jon and Xan in their rendition of "I Think I Like You," and Tina and the King Cousins with "Secret Love."

Alvino Rey plays "Lover" on his electric guitar, and then Marilyn and the Kids take over the spotlight with "Love Is the Reason for It All," with Kent joining Marilyn in a duet of "Love Is A Simple Thing."

The mother and daughter medley includes "Funny Valentine," "I Love You," and "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing."

Bob Clarke opens the fifth portion of the program reading James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Then in a touching segment Alyce sings "How Deep Is the Ocean" with the entire family then joining once again to sing "Love."

The introduction of six married couples of the King Family concludes the Valentine's Day program. Each couple wears the suits and gowns worn on their respective wedding days. "True Love" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" are sung by the husbands and wives.

'Microteaching'

JOLIET — A videotape machine has been installed in the Education Department of the College of St. Francis for use in "microteaching sessions." The equipment was donated to the college by Father David Clarke, S.J., vice president for academic affairs.

Microteaching is a new technique for the training of teachers involving instruction, under scaled-down conditions.

Business Life

FRANKFORT — Phillips Chevrolet, located at Routes 45 and 30, was recently named parts and service winners of Chevrolet's "Make Your Mark" campaign for 1971.

The award is presented to the dealership which surpasses all other Chevrolet dealers in its group for moving ahead of planned objectives in parts and service sales.

Phillips combined parts and service sales exceeded by over 100 percent 1970 volume.

Big week

Tinley hosts mat meet

TINLEY PARK — It's a big week of sports at Tinley Park High School. Not only will the Titans host the Southeast Conference swim meet, (see story elsewhere on this page) but it will also be the site of 28 district wrestling sites throughout the state.

The Titans will host an 11-team wrestling field, in a district which boasts some of the states' best mat teams. Besides the hosting Titans the teams will be: Lockport, Joliet Catholic, Joliet Central, Joliet East, Joliet West, Lincoln-Way, Providence, Minooka, Oak Forest, and Wilmington.

The hosting Titans are champions of the Southeast Suburban Conference and Lockport won the Illini 8 Conference meet.

Joliet East finished its dual meet season unbeaten and was second to Lockport in the conference meet.

Joliet West, which along with East were the only two conference teams to beat Lockport during the dual meet season finished third in the Illini 8 meet.

Lincoln-Way was among the top teams in the Southwest Suburban Conference this season. Oak Forest despite being only a two year school and having only sophomores turned in an impressive 9-3 record during the season with three of the wins coming against varsity competition.

The top two wrestlers at each weight will advance to sectional competition at Naperville Feb. 18-19. Also qualifying for the Naperville sectional will be wrestlers from the Oswego, Glenbard East and St. Charles districts.

First round action will begin Thursday, Feb. 10, at 6:30 p.m. Semi-finals will be Saturday, Feb. 12, at 2 p.m. with the championship finals at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Titans make ready for SE swim action

TINLEY PARK — All season the Tinley Park swimming team has been pointing toward the Southeast Conference meet, Saturday, Feb. 12, coach George Gilberg and his team will have their chance when the Titans host the conference meet.

The Titans will host Stagg, Hillcrest, Thornton Fractional North and South, (two of the teams in the conference Crete and Bradley don't have swim teams) with Hillcrest ranking as the favorite for the meet.

While the Titans had a dual meet season that had them on the losing side of the ledger, coach Gilberg has been priming his team for the conference, as the Titan swimmers concentrated on improving their times throughout the season with hopes of reaching their best effort for the conference.

Last season the first time the conference had enough teams competing (the conference must have at least five teams competing in a sport to hold a sanctioned conference meet) the Titans took second behind TFS.

Gilberg has three of last year's defending conference champs back, and figures his tankers have a good shot at the title. Action will get underway with diving competition at 9:30 a.m. The rest of the meet will begin at 1 p.m.

Fred Flor, one of the defending conference champs for the Titans has turned the best time of any of the conference competitors in the 100-yard breaststroke this season with a time of 1:08.4.

Jeff Muys is defending champ in the 200-yard individual Medley. His time this season is 2:19.3 second only to Cory McPherson, of Hillcrest with a time of 2:18.3.

Bill Guilfoyle is the third Titan defending a title, this one in the 100-yard butterfly. Guilfoyle has a time of 1:00.7. Scott Doerfler of Hillcrest has turned in the season's best time at the distance in :58.4.

Celt cagers

lose twice

NEW LENOX — It wasn't a very good weekend for the Providence basketball team. The Celts lost both of their outings. First they dropped a 78-76 overtime Private League decision to Little Flower, and Saturday took an 80-65 beating against Joliet East.

Providence is now 4-6 in league play and 9-11 for the season. Led by Roy King's 23 points the Celts displayed a balanced attack against Joliet, but East shot a hot 63 per cent from the field.

Jim Prieboy and Steve Gant each had 15 for the Celts and Bob Bravato 10. Joliet had the lead all the way but didn't break away until the final quarter.

The Kingsmen held only a 38-30 half-time edge and with just under two minutes remaining in the third quarter, King dropped in two of the ten points he scored in the period to bring the Celts within two, 49-47, as Providence outscored the Kingsmen in the quarter 19-17.

Joliet finally pulled away to stay in the final period outscoring the Celts 25-16.

In the Little Flower game the Lancers got the better of the extra time, outscoring Providence 6-4. The game was close throughout with neither team ever leading by more than five.

Prieboy picked up three fouls during the first quarter and sat out the entire second quarter, and finished the night with 10 points. The first quarter ended 11-11 and Providence lead 35-34 at the half.

Gant hit a 25-footer to tie the score just as the buzzer sounded to end regulation play. The Celts lost the game at the free throw line where they made only 18 of 34 while the Lancers were hitting 26 of 42.

Hockey is cancelled

TINLEY PARK — Ron Bruning, superintendent of the Tinley park district, has announced that the proposed hockey program for winter 1971-72 is cancelled.

Ice hockey was to be played on the two sites presently under construction at Lewis and Brenttowne Parks.

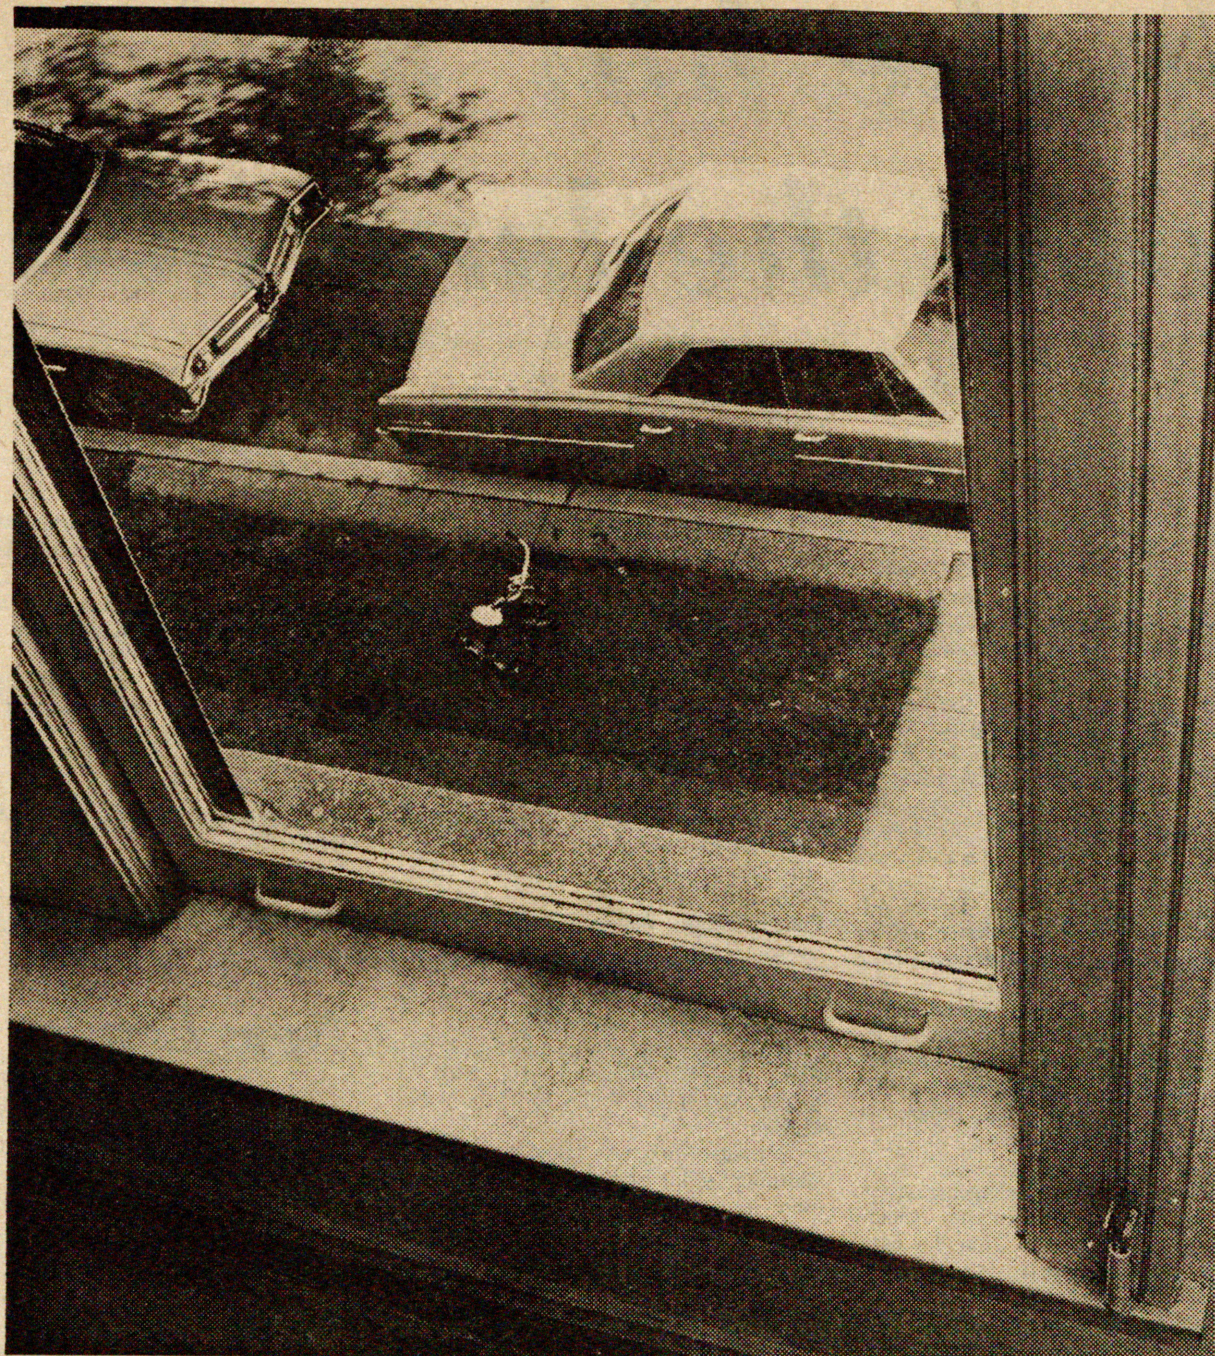

Park District officials said that final grading and the completion of retainer walls for water were not built before the weather started to deteriorate. All emergency measures taken to successfully flood Brenttowne Park also failed.

According to Bruning, a refund will be mailed to all who were registered for the hockey program.

Many open skating sites have been created around town by the park district and village. Location sites may be obtained by calling the park district Headquarters at 532-8698 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The sites that were proposed for the hockey program will be used this summer for tennis and volleyball. They will be available for night play with illumination by 16 1,500 watt quartz floodlights that will operate from coin meters lighting each court.

You clean and clean and clean again. Where does the dirt come from?

The window is locked. It seems good and tight. But there's dirt on your sills. And every day, it keeps coming back.

The flame in your heating system is the culprit. In order to burn, it needs air—more air than your house can hold.

So it pulls in outside air from under doors and around windows. (Even though they look airtight, they're not.) And along with that air comes outside dirt.

You wouldn't have that problem with electric heat. It's flameless and needs no air. So your whole home stays cleaner.

If you're thinking about converting or replacing your present heating system, look into flameless electric heat. After all, you spend two-thirds of your life at home. Don't you want that environment clean too?

Titans are mat champs

TINLEY PARK — A group of juniors and one senior brought Tinley Park its first title of the 1971-72 sport season last week.

Coach Steve Axelrod's varsity wrestlers won the Southeast Conference title edging Hillcrest, 84-81. Tinley had four individual winners the most of any team in the meet.

Stagg was third and Rich Central fourth in a four-way race for the title. Tom Brocius won the title at 105. Bill Frankenberger, was the 145-pound champ. Mike Meloy, the team's only senior, won a 185, and Rich Aggen was the heavyweight champ.

In a league where close races in sports have become a rule, Meloy won his title 3-2 to assure Tinley of at least a tie with Hillcrest for the title.

Aggen, however, had other ideas as the biggest Titan of them all turned in a 3-2 win in the title bout to make Tinley the Champs.

It is the second conference title for coach Axelrod, who this year coached the Titans to a 12-3-1 season record.

Along with their four champions the Titans added one second and four thirds to add to their point production.

Brocius was the first Titan champ with an 8-2 win, and Bill Frankenberger won the crown with a 1-0 decision.

Bob Martin took second at 155 pounds. Third places were won by Mel Sneddon, 112-pounds, Bill Hanks, 119-pounds, Rick Zolner, 132, and George Miles, 167.

The performance by Hanks was particularly impressive since the 119-pound grappler was wrestling for only the third time in varsity competition.

Next outing for the Titans will be this Thursday when they will host an 11-team district field.

Gingerwood has hockey

OAK FOREST — Again, Friday night the puck was flying fast as the Canadians met the Bruins at the Morton-Gingerwood School.

Defense was the name of the game by both teams and it wasn't until three minutes before the end of the first period that Bruin Bill McGregor scored with a 15-foot lifting slap shot for the only score of the period.

Five minutes into the second period Bill McGregor smashed a short rebound into the net for the second Bruin goal.

With one minute left in the period Canadian Kevin Joyce fired a 20-foot burner straight from the side that glanced off the Bruin goalie's foot to give the Canadians their first score.

At the end of the second period it was Bruins 2, Canadians 1.

The third period was one of fast shooting and excellent defense by both teams as the Canadians tried to keep their winning streak alive but the Bruins were just too hot for them Friday night and with just one and one-half minutes left in the period Bruin Mike Kubacki jammed a short shot through a crowd of Canadian players to put the icing on the cake for the Bruins, 3-1.

The second game between the Blackhawks and the Rangers was the first game this season that had no penalties assessed to either team although there was plenty of action.

The first period ended scoreless as both teams fired shot after shot that was superbly blocked by both goalies and their teams. The scoreless tie was broken in the second period by Ranger Mike Cadman when he slammed home a 12 foot lifting slap shot from a difficult angle. With just 5 seconds left in the period Blackhawk Bill Stadden tied the score again when he glanced a shot off the net post that bounced into the net.

The tension was high going into the third period as both teams could taste victory. Four minutes into the third period Bill Stadden put the Hawks ahead as the Hawks won 2-1.

Park district softball planned

OAK FOREST — The Park District will be offering a softball program again this year. It will be for both girls and boys, ages 9 to 13 and 13 to 17. There will be traveling teams as well as inter-mural teams.

The program is now being organized and will not be extensive or successful without more men and women to volunteer to work with the girls and boys. Any one interested, can call the Oak Forest Park District, 687-7270, or Judy Cipolla, 687-1410.

Lincoln-Way cagers sweep weekend play

NEW LENOX — Lincoln-Way's cagers have five games remaining this season, and four of them are must games. The Knights are presently tied for the Southwest Suburban with Rich East.

Both teams have 8-2 marks, and should the Knights falter in any of their four remaining conference games, it would probably cost them a chance at the title.

Friday Lincoln-Way rebounded from the loss to Rich East, with a 76-63 league win over Bremen. Saturday the Knights rolled past Richards, 74-61 in a non-conference game.

The Knights won Saturday with only limited services from their star Terry Ryan. Fouls forced Ryan to sit out 10 minutes of the game including the final 4:09, when the Knights were leading 66-55. Even without Ryan, however, Richard was no match for the Knights who recorded their 11 win in 16 tries this season.

Lincoln-Way gave away size to Richards which had two 6-7 started in the lineup. Forced to the outside the Knights got some fine shooting from Greg Heckler, John Schilling, and Bob Surdey.

Heckler and Surdey finished the night tied for scoring honors with 16 apiece, followed by Schilling with 15. Ryan had 13 and John Pirko 11, to round out a balanced attack.

Ryan led the way early getting all of his points and 11 rebounds in the first half in helping the Knights to a 39-25 intermission lead, and a 19-15 rebound edge.

Against Bremen the 6-5 Ryan, and 6-7 Pirko combined to pour in 51 points. Ryan the areas second leading scorer with a 25.1 average hit for 30 points and grabbed 21 rebounds. Pirko finished 21 points.

The Knights took an early 7-1 lead and moved to a 16-18 first quarter edge, aided by a perfect 8 for 8 at the free throw line. For the night the Knights made 22 of 28 free throws.

Lincoln-Way scored 17 points in the second quarter, with Ryan and Pirko doing all of the scoring.

Bremen made the first eight points in the second half, as the Knights shot only six of 15 in the quarter.

The Knights managed to come back in the fourth quarter for the win. Friday the Knights host Conference foe Reavis at 8 p.m.

Homewood beats Knight gymnasts

NEW LENOX — Homewood rolled up a 114-79, 53 gymnastics win over Lincoln-Way in a Southwest Suburban dual meet Friday. The Knights failed to win a first in the meet, and are now 1-2 in conference, and 5-7 for the season.

Jay Clark was second on the sidehorse and Mike White took a second in the trampoline. Thursday, Feb. 10 the Knights host Reavis at 7 p.m., and Friday host Lane of Chicago at 1 p.m.

Volleyball team to meet fem faculty

OAK FOREST — On Tuesday, Feb. 1, the champion girls' volleyball team of Oak Forest High School challenged the women faculty to a best two out of three volleyball tourney.

After losing the first game to the student team, consisting of sophomores, Linda Jordan, Kim Reimer, Sue North, Debbie Folgers, Karen French and Cathy Carsten, the faculty team, consisting of, March Leach and Barb Marsteller, both physical education teachers, Nancy Erickson, Spanish teacher, Kathy Hodel and Anna Racky, both math teachers, and Mary Rothenburg, art teacher, came back to win the second game.

The students triumphed on the final game.

Titans surprise Rich

TINLEY PARK — From time to time in sports there comes a time when the have nots rise up to smite the haves. The Tinley Park basketball team, a have not in Southeast Suburban in last place with a 1-8 going into last week's action took on Rich Central, 9-0, and leading the league.

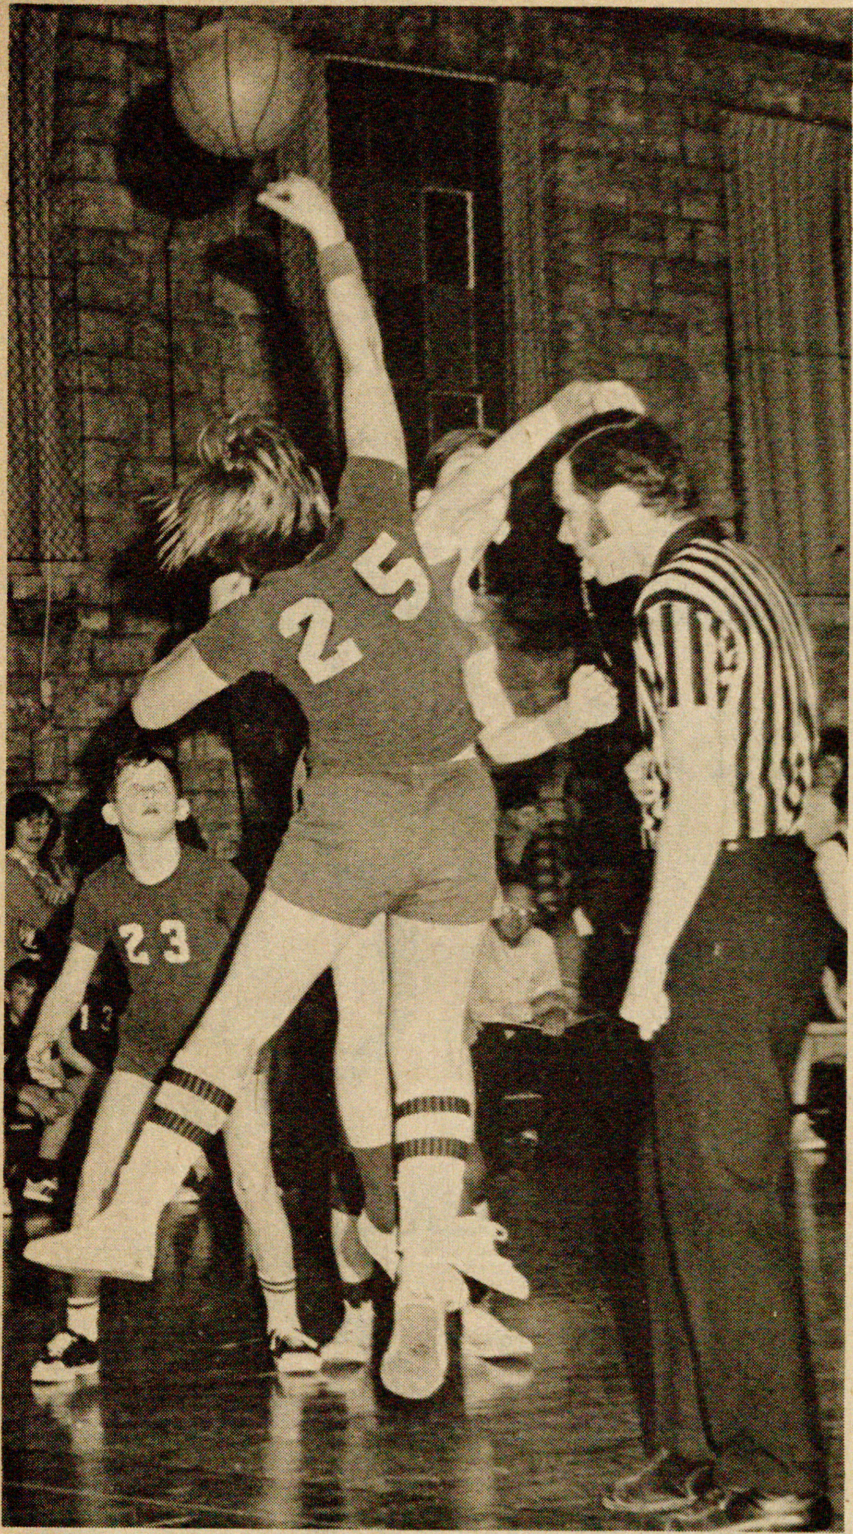

The outcome, Tinley Park turned in one of the year's top prep cage upsets with a 66-62 win over the Olympians. Despite the loss Rich remained on top of the league when Bradley handed second place Thornton Fractional North its second loss of the season.

Kirby Bullard led the Titans with a 30 point effort the best individual scoring performance for Tinley this season. Playing probably their best game of the season the Titans broke an attempt at a Rich Press, and had a good shooting night hitting on 20 of 35 attempts.

Bullard had nine of 13 from the field and 12 of 18 from the free throw line. Coach Gordon Rogers in explaining his team's win against Rich, said, "They were just putting the ball in the basket, something the Titans haven't been able to do with any consistency this season."

Any hopes that Titan fans have had that the Rich win would give their team momentum was crushed the following night when the Titans were back in the shooting doldrums again losing 60-41 to Stagg. Tinley made only 15 of 51 from the field, and Steve Bettenhausen was the Titans best offensive threat with nine.

Randy Lindstrom and Larry Audas each has eight points against Stagg. Friday the Titans host Conference foe Bradley at 8 p.m. and Saturday travel to Michigan City, Indiana for a game with one of Indiana's top undefeated teams.

Championship tilt

The Orland Youth Association title went to Mr. Ed's IGA team Thursday night as it nipped Sunrise Heating to end the regular season with a 11-0 record. IGA's Jeff Gibula (25) gets the tip on Sunrise's Larry Munson as IGA's Ed Herman (23) waits for the tip. Ted Stor-officiated.

Lincoln-Way matmen hold on for win

OAK LAWN — Halfway through it's final dual meet of the season the Lincoln-Way wrestling team held a 19-6 lead over Southwest Suburban Conference foe Oak Lawn.

Suddenly the Spartans turned things around winning five of the next six matches, and only a pin by Ken Codini at 167-pounds, gave the Knights a 25-24 victory.

The win enabled the Knights to carry a 12-6 season record mark into action this week in the Tinley Park district.

Jim Skintotes started the action for the Knights with an 18-6 win at 98-pounds, and John Nakashima had an easy 14-3 win at 105.

Dean Hobson, who boasts an impressive 18-1-3 record this season was a 5-2 winner at 112, as the Knights extended their lead to 11-0.

Dennis O'Connor lost 15-4 at 119, but Mike Bachmann pinned at 126, to bring his season record to 21-2. Russ Raiser who had gone into the meet with a 16-4 record followed with a 4-4 tie at 132, for what proved the last Knight win until Cordini pinned.

Jim Brown lost 5-2 at 138, and Gary Goebig was pinned at 145. Doug Youngren lost 11-5 at 155; and Codini came through with a pin. Fred Broug was beaten 5-3 at 185, and Scott Weichlaw lost the heavy-weight bout 8-4.

The top two wrestlers at each weight will advance to sectional competition at Naperville Feb. 18-19. Also qualifying for the Naperville sectional will be wrestlers from the Oswego, Glenbard East and St. Charles districts.

First round action will begin Thursday, Feb. 10, at 6:30 p.m. Semi-finals will be Saturday, Feb. 12, at 2 p.m. with the championship finals at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Eagles pin 2 opponents

By Dave Lumley

ORLAND PARK — The wrestling Eagles of Carl Sandburg won their final conference meet and fourth in a row last Thursday against Reavis. The Eagles dumped the Rams, 33-16 to post a 4-3 final conference record. The 4-3 mark was good for fourth place in the Southwest Suburban Conference.

Mark Butz won at 98 before Mike Bronson, George Little, and Russ McGill were dealt defeats by the smaller and quicker Rams.

Co-captain John Walker came to the rescue, however, and pinned his 132 pound opponent. "When Walker pinned his man I thought we'd win and we did," said Coach Don Schultz.

From this point on it was clear sailing for the Eagles as they nailed down seven straight victories including three pins.

Joe Tholl and Chuck Cretton followed with wins and 167 pounder Jim Webster pinned. Mark Eirekson won at 185 and heavyweight Mike Kettman did it again, pinning his fourth opponent in a row.

With the dual meets over the Eagles are now preparing for this Friday's and Saturday's district wrestling meet at Evergreen Park.

Coach Schultz thinks Evergreen, the host team, is the team to beat in the district competition. Individuals Schultz has high hopes for: 98 pounder, Butz, 126 pounder, Dan Presbeterio, 132 pounder, Duane Capodice, 145 pounder, Tholl, 167 pounder, Jim Webster, and heavyweight Kettman.

Butz, is only a sophomore but has posted a 7-0 record in conference this year.

Tholl and Presbeterio both are above average wrestlers, winning 2 out of 3 of all their matches. Duane Capodice, was MVP in the Rich East tourney. Jim Webster at 167 should also be very tough to handle.

Kettman, gaining pins in his last four outings, looks as though he has just now reached his peak. Kettman, injured twice during the year, is perhaps the team's most versatile and complete wrestler and should be at his best for the state tournament. The Eagles bettered their 8-11 mark of last year by turning it around this year to show an 11-8 mark.

Age group swimmers win

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park Age Group Swim Team, coached by George Gillberg, has quickly established itself as a formidable power of the Moraine Valley Swim Conference.

On Feb. 1, the Tinley Park Team splashed to a convincing victory over the Evergreen Park Age Group Team by a score of 348 - 276. This gives the team a season record of 4-1.

Points are awarded to the top four finishers in individual events and with swimmers limited to two individual races, the importance of having full representation so as to not only win but to also place is recognized as necessary for victory.

With all swimmers placing in the top four of each event contributing heavily to the win over Evergreen Park, first place finishers from Tinley Park were Linda Haslinger, Patrick Pauly, Susan Lindstrom, Joseph Catalano, Vicki Shaw, Therese Palmer, Jeffrey Fredette, Rhonda Shaw, and Tony Milani in freestyle races; and Sharon Ahrendt, John Kraus, Rhonda Shaw, Joseph Catalano, Paul Hubbell, Patricia Miller, Ron Nix, and Jeanne Blitvich in breast stroke events.

Additional first place finishers from Tinley Park were Vicki Shaw, Paul Opalacz, Keith Nix, and Jeanne Blitvich in individual medley races; Brent Deuries, Gary Younger, Tony Milani, Mark Opalacz, and Jeffrey Fredette in backstroke events; and John Kraus, Tony Milani, Debbie Kraus, and Paul Opalacz in butterfly events.

Growing pains for suburbs

By Jean Wille

ORLAND PARK — The Sandburg basketball team, with two weekend losses, ran their losing streak to five games.

Friday night the Eagles fell to last place Reavis by the score of 56-52.

The Eagles had numerous chances to beat the Rams, but thwarted themselves with a number of errant passes and missed shots.

The shooting percentage for the Sandburg squad was a poor 36 per cent.

On Saturday the Eagles returned to their home court to meet Chicago Christian. Christian displayed championship talent in 6-8 senior center Don Noort, who scored 36 points. Noort dominated both boards.

The losses dropped the Eagle conference and overall records 3-7 and 6-3 respectively. This weekend the Eagles will have two chances to break their current winless spell.

On Friday the Eagles face Bremen at Sandburg. In their early season meeting the Braves dumped the Eagles by a tally of 76-73.

Saturday the Eagles travel to Homewood to face the Vikings, who also dumped the Eagles earlier this season, 55-48. The final score of the first meeting was 55-48.

MOKENA — On Saturday morning, Jan. 29, St. Mary traveled to Oakview Junior High School in New Lenox to participate in a quadrangular wrestling meet. The other three teams were Oakview, Morris and Troy.

Terry Weber's state champions from Oakview tied for first place honors with Morris, but St. Mary fans had their moments of joy too.

St. Mary team took the first three championships in the meet with Dale Slusarski taking the 50 lb. event with a pin; Don Schofield took the 55 lb. category with a superior win, and Dennis Slusarski took the 60 lb. category with a pin.

St. Mary also took two second place wins by Pat Geary at 70 lb. and George White at 120 lb. The team also took two third place wins with Doug Slusarski at 85 lb. and Ken Sitzberger at 105 lb. on forfeit.

ORLAND PARK — Carl Sandburg's never say die swimmers won their tenth meet in a row Friday against Evergreen Park. The Eagles demolished Evergreen, a pre-season favorite, 65-30 to clinch the dual meet season championship in the Southwest Suburban Conference with a perfect 5-0 record.

Sandburg won eight out of 11 events including both relays in dumping the Mustangs. "I'm very proud of these kids, it was just a great team effort," said happy coach Alan Gillberg.

Andy Merz, George Merijohn, Tom Kaptur and freshmen Al Gillberg Jr., and Dave Prosen have been the big story for the Eagles.

All five have been outstanding throughout the year and carry the team when it's needed most.

SOUTHWEST — The southwest suburbs are suffering "growing pains" in attempting to keep up with the needs of the increasing populations. From all indications (building and annexations of property for industrial, commercial, and housing projects) the "growing pains" will continue with accelerating "muscle spasms" for the southwest suburbs.

Population projection increases from the various towns range from 100 percent increases for a ten year span to 400 percent increases. No one really knows where it all will end but many people are making statistically-based guesses and, who can disprove their figures when the entire area obviously has unseen potential.

Tinley Park's present population is about 12,382 and projections range as high as 37,500 for 1980. Building on property already in the village limits is staggering and potential annexation of land is great.

Tinley has 13 new housing and commercial developments under review. Included are a planned unit development at 171st St. and 80th Ave. This is an extension of Bremen Towne and consists of 30 acres of multiple dwellings, 60 acres of single family homes and 20 acres of commercial development.

Also being reviewed are a proposed office building at 177th and Oak Park Ave. and an Industrial Park at 175th St. west of Harlem Ave.

Oak Forest presently has a population of 17,871 and future growth from village officials is anticipated at 27,000 for 1980. There are seven large tracts being developed including an Industrial Park at 167th St.

and Brennan Highway.

Orland Park's projection for 1980 is about 20,000 which is almost triple the present population of 7,297. Future plans involve a Community Park and development of the area at 80th Ave. north of Route 6, acquisition of 10-15 acres at 151st St. and 94th Ave. which will include a civic center and library, and a new village hall.

An estimate for Mokena's 1980 population is about 5000 if surrounding territory to the west and east are taken into the village. If Arbury Hills and Rolling Heights are added the population may be around 7000.

New Lenox's current population is 2,855 and could reach as high as 7,500 or 10,000 in ten years.

Frankfort's population is now 2,325 and 1980 may see 10,000 living within the village limits.

With the possibility of Lake Michigan water slowly becoming a reality, and major hookups with the Metropolitan Sanitary District taking place, Tinley Park, Oak Forest and Orland Park will soon be set for complete growth toward other village limits.

When this is completed, Frankfort, New Lenox and Mokena will no doubt hit the height of their growth unless of course they solve their major problems at the same time — which may result in southwest suburban "muscle spasms" that require sedation.

Retail committee to meet

ORLAND PARK — The Retail Service Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet Wednesday morning, Feb. 16, for a breakfast meeting at Jardine's Restaurant, 159th Street and Oak Park Avenue.

Reports will be made on several projects initiated at the first meeting of the newly organized committee. Additional projects and programs will be decided upon.

Those in attendance at the first meeting, held Feb. 2, included committee co-chairmen Charles Fleck and Jerry Piper, Chamber President Richard Lentfer, Atty. Harry Shriman, Atty. E. K. Friker, Ed Schuetz, Tore Borsch, Robert Dowling, Kent Lindsey and Al Kosnar.

Additional retailers, service people and professional members of the community are invited to attend these meetings and become involved in the Retail Service Committee.

Four projects are being investigated as a result of the first meeting of the committee. These include:

1. A directory of businesses, service establishments and professional people with a village map. Fleck is preparing an outline for the directory's contents; Schuetz is securing information on the map and Piper will obtain printing estimates.
2. Contributions and fund drives. Atty.

Friker and Lindsey were appointed to study fund drives and contribution solicitation among business places in the community.

3. Additional businesses and professionals. The lack of a full line of retail stores and professional people will be studied by Kosnar and Atty. Shriman.

4. Service listing. The shortage of services and repair facilities was discussed by the committee and Dowling and Borsch were appointed to develop a list of all services and repair shops in the community and to list what services are needed.

A report on each project is to be made at the Feb. 16 meeting.

UNUSUALLY REWARDING CAREER OPPORTUNITY

IN REAL ESTATE SALES
Highly reputable, stable, growing and well established firm of Realtors which is a leader in home sales in large upper income, South West suburban area, has openings for two additional sales associates to join its staff of successful sales associates - no one of whom makes less than a five figure income annually. While real estate sales experience helps, successful sales experience in other fields is equally acceptable. We will also accept and train a capable person with a yen and aptitude for sales who has no previous sales experience. Two of our best producers had no sales or real estate experience before joining us. Age, sex and education are not a consideration. We're interested only in ability and drive. Our advertising program and floor time provide plenty of leads so that your earning potential is very high. Our people stay with us for years, as a rule.

School board filing to begin

First day for filing petitions for school boards will be February 23. Last day for filing is March 17. Election day is April 8.

In Mokena grade school district 159, two are to be elected to full three year terms and one for a year for an unexpired term. Expiring are the terms of Fremont-Warner and John Winter. The unexpired term is that of Norman Patterson, whose place on the board has been filled by Cadet Cottingham, through appointment.

In Summit Hill District 161, which operates Arbury Hills and Ann Rutledge Schools the terms of John Hayden and Larry Morris expire, so two will be elected for full terms.

Three are to be elected to full terms at Frankfort, District 157-C, and one for an unexpired term of one year now filled by Robert Ball through appointment. Expiring are the terms of Melvin Eisenbrandt, board president; James Knippel and Frederick Thompson Sr.

Two will be elected in New Lenox District 122, to full terms. Philip Gould and Mrs. Ruth Stoneberger are the board members whose terms expire.

Three are to be elected to the Lincoln-Way High School board for full terms and there will be one elected to serve a year of an unexpired term. The high school district is made up of Frankfort, New Lenox and Manhattan townships.

The three whose terms expire this spring are Dr. Robert Keener, Frankfort; Daniel Mathews, New Lenox, and George E. Sangmeister, Mokena. Sangmeister was appointed to the board to fill out the final year of the term of Gordon Holeman, formerly of Mokena, who was transferred by his company.

The other term, one year, was brought about the resignation of Durward Fant, last year when he was transferred to Florida. Fant was a resident of Mokena and James Fagan, Mokena, was appointed to serve until the election. All four incumbents have taken out nominating petitions.

Has big orange, then robs place

NEW LENOX — Two men, described as white, in their twenties, both around 6 feet tall, held up the Little Store, 921 S. Cedar, here last Thursday evening. They obtained more than $100, according to the report to police.

One of the bandits wore a ski jacket, the clerk said, and the one who approached the clerk with the demand, "open the cash register," was armed with a shotgun. About eight or 10 inches of the gun muzzle was silver colored, police were told.

The robber with the gun told the clerk not to scream or call for help. "I won't hurt you if you are quiet," he is reported to have said.

The man who displayed no weapon had been in the store a few minutes before his companion entered. The first comer ordered an orange drink and was sipping it when the hold-up was started.

Broncs schedule horse show

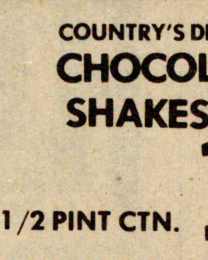

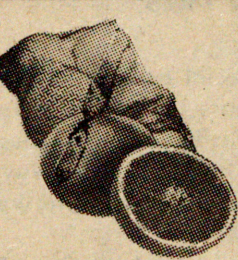

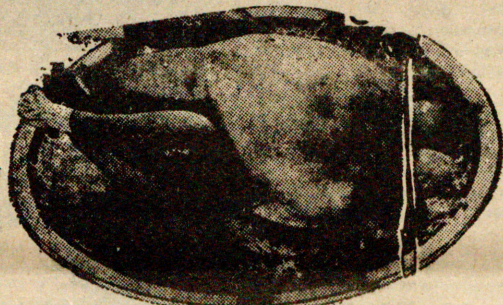

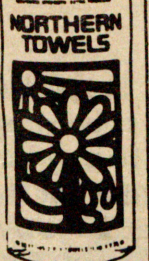

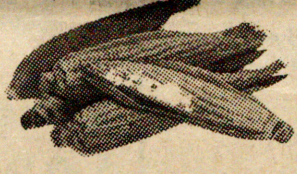

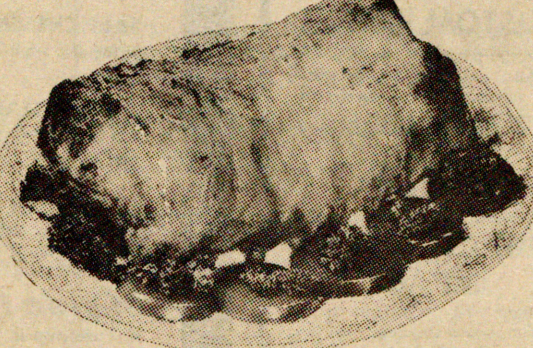

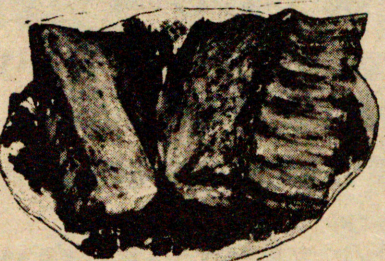

NEW LENOX — The New Lenox Bronc Busters 4-H Club will hold a horse show starting at 10 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, at Teakwood Farm, Park Road. Only members of the Bronc Busters may show.

There will be 15 classes and trophies for all first places. Ribbons will go to the first four places. High point junior and senior trophies also will be awarded. Judge will be Bruce Lemmer. The public is invited to attend.

Admission is 50¢ for members and 75¢ for non-members. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds with the proceeds going to support the club.
